class newsletter

We had a great time on Election Day voting for our Go Noodle characters whose values we liked the most. Om Petalhead came out as the winner with her values being kindness matters. 😊

In math we explored ordinal numbers. We learned how things in a line have an order and used words like first, second, and tenth! In literacy we worked with the letter A and used labels in our writing. We added the sight word see into our reading vocabulary and worked on blending the onset and rime in words. For example, when a word is broken apart like c/at, we learned how to blend those sounds together to say the word.

In science we continued our learning with weather, and learned how to determine what the weather would be like on our birthday and how to warm up a shady area.

The Guardian Angel prayer is something we practiced this week in religion class. Please be practicing this prayer at home! A sheet will be in your child's Friday folder with the prayer so you can practice just like we do in class!

Our Christmas program will be on December 20th at 1:30 PM. I wanted to let you all know early so you can hopefully make arrangements to attend. Our students have already started to prepare with Sr. Denise and it is a show to remember! More information will be going out later about dress and students part in the program.

Important Dates:

- 11/12: No School: Veteran's Day
- 11/13 & 11/14: No School: Parent Teacher Conferences
